Contact: info@aikido-marburg.de, Kilian Scherer

No formal registration required; however, for planning reasons, it would be kind to e-mail us soon if you intend to come!

Note: On the following days, Tuesday to Thursday, 20th to 22nd of June, there will be evening courses with Yamashima Sensei in the rooms of Aikido Schule Mannheim, see for more details page 2. Contact for Mannheim: Xavier Raphael (x.raaphael@gmx.net)

Travelling to the Georg-Gassmann-Stadion with your own vehicle:

If approaching from the north, leave the expressway „B3“ via exit „Gisselberger Straße“, if approaching from the south take the „Marburg Süd“ exit.

Then follow signposting „Georg-Gassmann-Stadion“ (distance after the exits about 1km).

There is sufficient free parking directly at the stadium.

As always, respect speed limits, especially in Marburg ;-)

Public transportation:

Transport connections to resarch via the site of the Rhein-Main-Verkehrsverbund RMV - <https://www.rmv.de/c/de/start/>

The easiest way from the main station is to take bus line 8 (direction "Dietrich-Bonhoeffer-Str.") without changing to the stop "Georg-Gassmann-Stadion".

The Großsپorthalle is located about 130m from the entrance gates of the Georg Gassmann Stadium straight ahead, directly opposite the skater facility. The tatami will be set up in the hall quarter on the far left, or for Monday in the "Gymnastikraum".

Accommodation:

Overnight stay is possible in the hall from Friday evening onwards. If you are interested, then you really should send an e-mail.

Directly in Marburg city there is a camping site on the banks of the Lahn - <https://www.lahnaue.de/> .

Nearby there are also about half a dozen sites for mobile homes set up by the city.

Hotels, guesthouses, vacation rooms to research via the municipal portal <https://www.marburg-tourismus.de/buchen/> ; also: <https://www.preiswert-uebernachten.de/hotel-pensionen/marburg/1725>
